Company Letter

Dear our valued customers,

Newwave Solutions began as a small start-up to explore the relatively new IT Outsourcing market in Vietnam at the time. It has already grown to become the leading IT outsourcing provider, including a network of hundreds of large and small domestic and international partners. It has been a long journey, and I appreciate my teamwork and effort.

It is a great honour and pleasure for me to manage and serve this wonderful firm. As I took over the company, I have asked all our team members to devote more time and effort to bring excellent software development services to our clients. We are eager to achieve more success and to contribute further to the software industry, where innovation is crucial to keep up with the market's pace of change. We strive to ride each new wave of innovation to soar to new heights. Our objective is to make sure that Newwave Solutions has a great influence on Vietnam's digital revolution.

I convey my delight and thanks to the company's highly trained IT professionals who continue to drive it to new heights a decade later. Please know that our valued clients are the driving force behind all we do at Newwave Solutions. We will continue to listen to and connect with customers to deliver a seamless communication experience for all clients, regardless of where or how they communicate.

Which should you choose?

Fixed Price

▫ The best model to get the complete solution under a fixed budget.

▫ Projects that have well-defined goals, vision, workflows, and results which are unlikely to change for the course of development.

▫ If you want to test out a new software provider before you hire them as your permanent dedicated developer.

T & M

▫ You only pay for the time and resources spent on the project.

▫ Long-term projects with continually evolving and unclear requirements.

▫ When you want enough flexibility to modify your requirements and to vary workload.

Extended Team

▫ This model allows you to add more workforce to set up an offsite team as strong as your in-house team.

▫ For long-term IT projects with original goals and rapidly changing scopes.

▫ When you want to access cross-border expertise and knowledge sharing.
